Michael's Musings

I am sure all of the turkey leftovers have been devoured. All the fuss about Black Friday and Cyber Monday has settled down. There are two radio stations in the Valley are playing Christmas holiday songs 24 hours each day until Christmas. The stores have all the decorations out to ensure that people get into the "holiday spirit." The one thing I have not seen yet are the Christmas tree peddlers – at least not in my neighborhood. However, it won't be long before the trees are out.

Yes, I believe we like to get ready for a variety of things. We get ready for big events in life such as pregnancies, graduations, etc. Christmastime is probably the biggest thing in which to prepare. We want to make sure that our homes are set to exude the holiday spirit. We determine the food we will prepare. We will think about who is traveling whether we go somewhere or family and friend visit us. Indeed, it can be a very busy time.

Advent is the season that comes before Christmas. Advent is the Anglicized Latin word adventus, which means coming. The word adventus comes from the Greek word, parousia, which in New Testament means the Second Coming of Christ. We can think of Advent as getting ready to remember the birth of Jesus. Of course we get ready for birthday parties. However, the season of Advent also anticipates that Jesus is coming again in a couple of ways. First, we share in an ancient longing, along with the Jewish people, that God's Anointed One (Messiah) is on the way. Second, we should be alert for the Second Coming of Jesus.

My favorite bumper sticker about the return of Jesus is, "Jesus is coming, look busy." Advent is not a time to sit back and relax. Our time for Advent is a time for us to come clean about ourselves in our relationship with God. Prayer and study are good things in which to engage as well as acts of charity. We discover that God's love is big enough to cover our sins. God's love is big enough to share with us a Son named Jesus. We have a generous God who shares everything with us.

I hope this season of Advent provides a time for you to examine your relationship with God, and to get ready to receive Jesus again. May the Holy Spirit fill us all with a spirit of anticipation of God's grace working in our lives.

Have a blessed season of Advent and a Merry Christmas!

Pastor Michael

Lay Leaders Notes

"Behold, I bring you tidings of great joy!" The angel brought the Christmas messages to shepherds in the fields around the city of Bethlehem. We of the St. Matthew family are also shepherds given the great news as our church is located on what had been the Dobson sheep ranch. Luke's gospel tells us that the angels came first to the shepherds, who symbolized so much in the life of God's people, as shown in the beauty of the Twenty-Third Psalm. Jesus also uses the image of the shepherd as he told the parable of seeking for the one lost lamb, out of the one hundred in the flock, just as God will search for all his children. On Christmas night the shepherds are the first to go to find and worship the Baby and then share their experience with everyone they meet. May you and your loved ones experience the joy and hope of Christmas and share the good news that God's love is always there, waiting in the manger.

Blessings from
Betsy Hertzler

Christmas at Juvenile Corrections

The "Christmas at Juvenile Corrections" table will be set up on the far west side of the patio area on December 7, 14, and 21 to distribute the wish list for the youths' Christmas gifts and to collect items from those lists that you are able to donate. These gifts are a great blessing to the youth, helping them understand that those of us on the "outside" have not forgotten them.

You may also donate extra unused Christmas cards (without envelopes, please), which we will distribute to the kids on Christmas morning with their gift bags. They love receiving "mail"! Merely sign the cards with your first name(s) only.

We need your items by Sunday morning, December 21. They will be taken to Adobe Mountain School that afternoon. Contact Patty Ek at 602-717-2537 with any questions.

Dear Desert Southwest Conference,

Let me first express the hope that you and yours had a beautiful Thanksgiving celebration, however it is celebrated in your life!

I didn't think I would be writing to you today about Cyber Monday, but since Thanksgiving Day morning we have been bombarded by advertising to take advantage of Black Friday sales (which actually started on Thursday afternoon). Small Business Saturday, Spill over Sunday (when all the deals from Thursday, Friday, and Saturday are still available.) And today is Cyber Monday when you get the best possible online deals ever! I heard on the television news this morning of some online businesses expectations of millions and millions of products sold today. It makes my head swim to think people were waiting to pounce on this.

Saturday I ordered a household item from one of the major online sellers but when I discovered that today was the best day all year to buy, I went online to see if I could get the same item at a better price. To my amazement, the item was 20% more expensive today than it was Saturday. I guess that is Cyber Monday for you!

What it does bring to mind is how we get caught up in the moment with all the hype of this or that. It is like wars and rumors of wars. We can't wait to get in on the deals or the event or be there to see what happens. Do we really pay attention to what we need and buy it at a time of need or do we get persuaded to purchase things we don't want or need just because the price is supposed to be so good? There is a joke in our house about mattress sales. Every time we see a sign someone in the car will say, "Wow, there's a mattress sale today!" What day isn't there a mattress sale?

Here is your invitation to step off the merry go round of consumerism for this holiday season. I don't mean you shouldn't give and receive Christmas gifts, but maybe we can find ways to give gifts that honor people and who they are and not just find something on sale that will take care of that person on your list. Join with me in putting true meaning back into all of your Christmas celebrations. We have a wonderful opportunity to help the world around us understand that "Jesus is the Reason for the Season."

May you and your family be most blessed as we move into these important days!

God bless,
Rev. Bob Burns

Mark and Melanie are coming to us from Via de Cristo where they were the Directors of Family Ministries. While they love working with children, they feel called to work with youth. They are looking forward to getting to know our youth and planning great activities for them to participate in.

SPRC is hosting a lunch with the youth, parents and anyone interested in becoming involved with our Youth Program on Sunday, December 7 in the Activity Center following the 10:30 a.m. service. Christmas Butter Cookie Cutouts

A Christmas classic! Royal icing is piped onto tender butter cookies for a timeless treat.

Ingredients

- 3/4 cup butter, softened
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon finely grated lemon peel
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 1/2 cups Gold Medal all purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Royal Icing

- 3 cups powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoons meringue powder
- 5 teaspoons lemon juice
- 4 to 5 tablespoons water

Decorations

Betty Crocker colored sugars and candy sprinkles

Directions

1. In large bowl, beat butter and granulated sugar with electric mixer on medium speed until creamy. On low speed, beat in egg, lemon peel and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Stir in flour, baking soda and salt until well blended.
2. Divide dough into 4 parts; flatten each part into 1/2-inch-thick round. Wrap each in waxed paper or plastic wrap; refrigerate 30 minutes.
3. Heat oven to 350°F. Remove 1 round of dough at a time from refrigerator. Between sheets of floured waxed paper or plastic wrap, roll dough until 1/4 to 3/8 inch thick. Cut with 3-inch cookie cutters in various shapes. On ungreased cookie sheets, place cutouts 1 inch apart.

4. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or just until edges are golden. Cool on cookie sheets about 1 minute before removing to cooling rack. To make cookies for hanging, using a toothpick or end of plastic straw, carefully poke a hole in the top of each cookie while cookies are still hot. Cool 10 to 15 minutes before frosting.

5. In medium bowl, stir together powdered sugar and meringue powder. Stir in 5 teaspoons lemon juice and enough of the 4 to 5 tablespoons water to make a thin icing. Transfer 1/2 cup of the icing into small bowl; set aside. Using a flexible pastry brush, paint cookies to the edges with icing. Place on cooling rack to dry completely, about 30 minutes.

6. Beat reserved icing with electric mixer on high speed 5 to 7 minutes or until peaks form. Place in small resealable food-storage plastic bag; cut a very small hole in the bottom of the bag with the plain white icing. Squeeze icing onto glazed cookies. Before icing dries, sprinkle with decorations, and tap off excess. Dry thoroughly on cooling rack. Thread cookies with narrow ribbon for hanging.

Experts Tip

These cookies store well. Once frostings are set (including the decorations), place into a firm tin or plastic container and freeze. They can be kept up to 2 months.
